THREE SOVIET ARMIES ROLL ON TOWARD THE AUSTRIAN FRONTIER AND VIENNA; FOURTH SURGING TO BANKS OF QUEIS RIVER, 60 MILES FROM DRESDEN

Other Allied Forces Smash Eastward in Vicinity of Clevel

DRESDEN IS BOMBED

400 Heavies Center Their Attack on Saxon Capital

By International News Service
Three Soviet armies rolled westward today in mighty waves toward the Austrian frontier and Vienna while a fourth surged to the banks of the Queis River 60 miles from Dresden in a gigantic flanking movement which threatened a major portion of German defenses before Berlin.

Simultaneously the Canadian First Army, bolstered by English, Welsh and Scottish troops, smashed eastward above and below Clevel, captured northern anchor of the Siegfried Line, against increasingly furious Nazi opposition.

On the vast eastern front the second and Third Ukrainian armies, having completed the costly siege of Budapest, smashed toward the Austrian frontier less than 45 miles away.

At the same time the Fourth Ukrainian Army in southern Poland closed in on the Morava Gap, the gateway to the valley leading to Vienna.

Farther north the right wing of Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian Army slashed its way through crumbling German defenses for 10 miles to reach the Queis River and seized the town of Neuhausen, 70 miles northwest of Breslau.

Berlin reports indicated that Konev's forces, which wheeled northwest to flank the Nazis along the outer Berlin defense lines, had reached within 100 miles of the German capital.

British RAF bombers gave support to the Russian drive on Dresden during the night when 1,400 heavies centered their attack on the Saxon capital. German reports relayed through Stockholm said the Nazis already were removing stores of ammunition and war plant machinery from Dresden as the Soviets moved forward unchecked.

The Germans said Allied craft were over the Reich in daylight.

The official Soviet communiqué made no mention of activity along the First White Russian front where the Red Army is nearest Berlin. However Nazi commentators said the Russians had forced two large bridgeheads across the Oder River between Frankfurt-Am-Order and Kuestrin and had succeeded in ferrying across multi-barreled mortars across the river to strengthen their positions.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

(By International News Service)

ALLIES EXTEND PENETRATIONS INTO THE SIEGFRIED LINE

Paris—Canada's First Army and the United States Third Army uprooted the Nazis from additional Siegfried Line defenses today, with the Canadians extending their grip on the west bank of the Rhine and the Americans expanding a bridgehead east of Luxembourg.

Half of the Siegfried Line town of Ernzon, in the thickest belt of Westwall fortifications in the Echnernach battle area, was seized by the Americans in hard fighting which still raged in the streets.

Canadian forces steadily enlarged their 10,000-yard hold along the west bank of the Rhine and the Alter Rhine, a tributary, southeast of Millingen, in a drive aimed at the German communications center of Emmerich. British and Dominion forces of the Canadian First Army driving for the fortified town of Goch, south of captured Clevel, broadened their toehold across the Niers River between Gennep and Hommersum. They were reported within three miles of Goch.

Flood waters spreading over the battle area north of Clevel as a result of the blowing of sluice gates by the Nazis were neutralized by the Allied troops who blew up dikes.

Field headquarters, reporting the total of German prisoners had risen to 5,300, announced that there were no Germans left south of the Rhine in the sector northeast of Clevel.

Third Army forces under command of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton stretched their bridgehead across the Sure and Our rivers to a distance of 10 and one-half miles in length and two and one-quarter miles in depth.

Vianden, Luxembourg border town farther south which was the last Nazi hold in Luxembourg, was taken.

Simultaneously the Canadian First Army, bolstered by English, Welsh and Scottish troops, smashed eastward above and below Clevel, captured northern anchor of the Siegfried Line, against increasingly furious Nazi opposition.

On the vast eastern front the second and Third Ukrainian armies, having completed the costly siege of Budapest, smashed toward the Austrian frontier less than 45 miles away.

Sleet Conditions Make Travelling Hazardous

With snows which formed ice and remained on the ground for the past month having nearly disappeared from highways, residents were given a renewed taste of winter yesterday afternoon and during the night.

What started out as snow and made a white blanket on the ground, changed in the late afternoon to sleet, with intermittent hail during the evening.

Although travel was hazardous, motorists travelling at a slow pace were able to keep accidents at a minimum. Only one accident was reported to Penna. State Police at South Langhorne barracks. The cars operated by Elizabeth Stauring, Eddington, and Allen F. Crump, Dunks Ferry Road, Eddington, collided at the intersection of High and Maple streets, Eddington, at six o'clock last evening. The accident is said to be due to storm conditions. The cars were slightly damaged, but no one injured.

At the intersection of Bath and Buckley streets, motorists had great difficulty this morning in making the turn. Other grades, curves and intersections were also reported as hazardous.

The precipitation in the 24 hour period ending at eight this morning was .36 inches, according to records at the Rohm & Haas weather observatory, this being melted snow.

HOW TO READ A PEACE PLAN

They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore. (Isaiah, II, 4.)

The above Biblical quotation expresses a hope of mankind which has existed throughout history.

There never has been serious doubt about the only basis upon which a lasting peace can be built. The outlook and conduct of nations which will maintain harmony is expressed again by the Bible—in the words of Micah:

...to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.

This week there has been laid before the world another of the peace plans which history has seen.

In content it is not especially different from similar proposals outlined by such men as William Penn and Woodrow Wilson.

To the broad objective, that of "the continuing collaboration of all peace-loving peoples," it is unlikely that objection will arise.

The question is not of purpose, in which there may be presumed to be universal agreement, but in method.

And it is on this point that the wisdom and foresight of the present generation will be on trial at the Bar of the Future.

No question can be of more importance to the men and women of tomorrow than whether, out of the blood and wreckage of the present war, there can be found the principles and ideals by which the endless repetition of war, generation after generation, can be forever halted.

If the methods are sound, and are cemented by good faith, the world may enter a new era of harmony and understanding.

If the final plan is not fully just, if it is not sufficiently elastic to meet changing needs, and if it does not have the full and undivided loyalty of all signing nations, then the peace plan would be no more than a realignment of nations for a future war on still more devastating scale.

Woodrow Wilson, who saw more clearly perhaps than any other man the conditions of lasting peace in the contemporary world, but who allowed the keystone and foundation of his plan to be discarded at Versailles, stated the basic principles long before the League of Nations as such was proposed.

Wilson said in January of 1917:

"Only a peace between equals can last; only a peace the very principle of which is equality and a common participation in a common benefit."

"...no nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little people along with the great and powerful."

"There is no entangling alliance in a concert of power, when all unite to act in the same sense and with the same purpose, all act in the common interest and are free to live their own lives under a common protection."

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed."

The Wilson League of Nations is dead. It was fatally stricken when the Fourteen Points were riddled at the Peace Conference, and passed away when it proved unwilling or unable to halt Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia in 1935.

Why did the League fail of support?

Not because of its purpose, but because of its method. In one way or another, by one expression or another, much of the world came to a verdict about the Versailles agreement expressed by Senator Borah in the following picturesque language:

"With a ruthlessness unparalleled your treaty in a dozen Continued on Page Two

SILVER STAR AWARD GIVEN POSTHUMOUSLY

PFC James F. Snyder, Late of Pipersville, Showed Gallantry

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy, Feb. 14—PFC James F. Snyder, of Pipersville, Pa., has been awarded the Silver Star posthumously for gallantry in action on the Fifth Army front in Italy. It was announced by Brigadier General Paul W. Kendall, commanding general of the 88th "Blue Devil" Infantry Division.

Approval of the award was announced by Colonel J. C. Fry, commander of the 350th "Battle Mountain" Regiment, in which Snyder was a member of Company L.

Snyder was cited for killing and wounding many Germans with his automatic rifle, staying with his weapon until killed by shell fragments.

The action occurred on September 24, near Mount Acuto.

The citation read:

"On that day, Company L was advancing as the point of the Third Battalion when it was suddenly attacked by a strong enemy force. Snyder, a member of an automatic rifle team, immediately ran to a small ridge overlooking the enemy force, where he helped to put the automatic rifle in position, and then opened fire at the enemy with his rifle."

"The enemy soon located the automatic rifle position and their searching machine gun fire, in quick succession, killed the gunner and assistant gunner. Fully cognizant of the dangers involved, Snyder unhesitatingly assumed the gunner's position at the automatic rifle, even though the ridge was under continuous mortar and machine gun fire."

"His deadly and accurate automatic rifle fire killed and wounded many of the enemy. Snyder stayed at the gun until he was instantly killed by a mortar fragment."

"His heroic action was a material factor in the repulse of the enemy attack."

His mother, Mrs. Katie Snyder, lives on Route 1, Pipersville.

IDEALISM IN FRANCE

One of the current dislocations of the war centers in assertions of manpower shortages in the United States and widespread unemployment in France. France has great industrial plants ready to be placed in operation. They were neither destroyed by pre-invasion bombing nor by Nazi scorched earth policy.

There is ample skilled labor in France to operate the industries and mines. French and Belgian ports are in readiness to receive shipping that is allocated to those two countries. But France has no raw materials, no replacement parts for machinery and little interior transport. Its rail lines and canals are a shambles.

This is obviously so great a waste within the Allied effort that steps are being taken to correct the situation. Ships have been taken off other routes and assigned to rushing rehabilitation cargoes to France. Locomotives and rolling stock for French railways are high on the priority list in America, and the French transportation bottleneck should soon be alleviated.

One current handicap to French rehabilitation is Britain's refusal to release to France some of its enormous emergency stockpile of cotton and wool. The British still talk of a possible recurrence of underseas attack on their shipping. But Britain could get raw materials for textile industries into France more easily than most countries, and Britain probably will be called upon to do so.

GRAND FINALE

The belief is growing that fall of Berlin will put an end to war in Europe. Opening of a full scale Allied offensive in the West has buttressed this hope. Nazis may retreat into western Germany and attempt to continue fighting, but odds of terrain and manpower will be such that their best efforts will be puny. Loss of the capital is expected to have a tremendous psychological effect upon the civilian population, already increasingly restless.

What final days will bring for Berlin, already a shambles, opens a wide field for speculation. The pattern seems sharply defined. With Allied armies massed outside the city, there will be air assaults which will overshadow all previous raids. Thousands of planes will dump thousands of tons of explosives on the city. Then ground forces will move in.

As proof that sufficient air strength is available for the job, there have been raids in recent days participated in by as high as 3,000 planes. Attacks by 1,000 and 2,000 bombers and fighters have been of almost daily occurrence. Airplanes may not win wars, but they are playing a major part in the final downfall of Berlin, as they will in the complete defeat of Hitler and Nazism.

War cost to the Allies to date has been half a trillion dollars, of which the United States has contributed half. Uncle Sam has the iron-manpower.

instances runs counter to the divine law of nationality. Peoples who speak the same language, kneel at the same ancestral tombs, moved by the same traditions, animated by a common hope, are torn asunder, broken in pieces, divided, and parcelled out to antagonistic powers."

It goes almost without saying that if the conditions of the next Peace are open to such indictment, confidence in the World Council will be undermined from the start.

Not all the censorship in the world can stifle, not all the eulogies drown out, the protests of minority peoples unjustly dealt with.

In any unified program for nations, to gain common action there must be common purpose.

This need is satisfied during the war itself; the common purpose is victory. Concert of effort for this end has been easily maintained.

But after the war, there needs be some common cause other than merely vengeance against Germany.

The acid test to which the Crimean agreement must be submitted, not only by the people of America but all other races and nations, may be expressed as follows:

Does the plan bind the major nations of the world, without reservation, to protect the rights and interests of the lesser peoples?

If it does, the San Francisco conferences next April have promise of constructive and permanent good.

If not, the plans and approach of the major signing nations need to be modified before the program itself is finally ratified.

the only explanation of the greatness of the man," Mr. Bush commented.

"Up to the time he was 52 years of age, Lincoln was a failure. His first job was as postmaster at New Salem, Ill., at $50 a year. From his buying of a barrelful of 'junk' in which there were some books, including four volumes on law by Blackstone, Lincoln studied and became interested in law. It was at Springfield, Ill., that he began his practice."

Mr. Bush told many incidents of Lincoln's life. These facts show his greatness and the lack of pettiness in his make-up. Many aspects of Lincoln's life were covered, and countless experiences related. The audience expressed great pleasure over Mr. Bush's illuminating address.

In summing up he quoted the statement made by the then Secretary of War, Mr. Stanton, at the time of Lincoln's death: "Now he belongs to the ages."

Other guests of Rotarians last evening were Delmar Davidson, Philadelphia; and Sgt. Archie Lums, of Andalusia.

Next week Henry Schramm, of West Chester, a past district governor of Rotary, will speak at Elwood Tutenhouse will tell of the organization and growth of Bensalem Club. This meeting will be a tribute to 10 years of Rotary.

often is helpful, he said, in quieting their qualms.

He cited instances where morale building by the chaplains came in as a much needed part of the program. First, it is necessary for the chaplain to win the confidence of the men, he pointed out, for the Army or Navy men do not care for anyone who will not fight for his own cause, and, therefore, will not take a preacher as a matter of course.

During the meeting Rev. J. R. Shepley inducted Irvin Hartman as a new member. William Schell, who presided, introduced the speaker.

Christian G. Koenig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Koenig, of Pottsville, and husband of Mrs. Estella Koenig, Sellersville, had a thrilling experience in French waters when a live German mine attached itself to the anchor of the LST boat of which Koenig was a crew member.

Three times the mine clanked against the bow before it was finally released, and each time more than a score of crewmen expected the big flash, which didn't come.

But, according to a dispatch, a number of crewmen have more gray hair as a result of their experience.

HOW SMART ARE YOU?

Plenty smart, if you are one of the thousands of girls and women who have found blessed relief from "monthly grumps" in Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Of course, they do not correct organic menstrual conditions that require consultation with your doctor. But they do help to relieve the discomfort of functional pains, cramps, headaches and nervousness. Frequently accompanies the normal menstrual period. Taken according to directions, preferably two or three days in advance of your time, Chi-Ches-Ters Pills tend to relax the muscular contraction that is often the cause of unnecessary resistance and energy. Before suffering again, ask your druggist for Chi-Ches-Ters Pills, and accept no substitute. Caution: Use only as directed.

Newtown Garden Club Hears of "Plant Foods"

NEWTOWN, Feb. 14—Speaking of the subject, "Plant Foods," at a meeting of the Newtown Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Lucy Porter on Friday, Mrs. S. Paul Wood explained nitrates, potash and phosphates are essential to plant life.

These, it was explained, are taken from the soil, and must be returned to it, or the soil will become exhausted of its food supply.

Nitrates, Mrs. Woodman told the members, can be returned to the soil by means of the legume crops. Potash and phosphates must be returned by means of fertilizers.

This country, it was explained, is a good supply of phosphate deposits, but the rock must be ground, and purified before it is converted to fertilizer. Sulphuric acid is required in this process.

The largest deposits in the world, members were told, are in Germany, and the best source of potash in this country is in New Mexico. During roll call the members gave quotations appropriate to St. Valentine's Day and the birthday anniversaries of Lincoln and Washington.

The last feature of the program was a literary vegetable contest conducted by Mrs. Woodman.

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 9, at the home of Mrs. Corn Ogilby with Mrs. Lucy E. Porter and Mrs. Arthur Yunker in charge of the program.

Scripture reading: Psalm 23.
Text: "I am the Good Shepherd; the Good Shepherd giveth His life for the sheep."—John 10, 11.

Oh Thou great Shepherd of the sheep, who didst prove Thyself the one and only Good Shepherd by willingly giving Thy life for the sheep, on this Ash Wednesday we begin another season of solemn meditation on Thy holy Passion. Teach us that it is not the external, mechanical observance of rules during this Lenten season that please Thee, but rather that we learn to worship Thee in spirit and in truth. Teach each one of us to pray with the hymn-writer:—
Grant that I Thy Passion view with repentant grieving
Nor Thee crucify anew by unholy living.
How could I refuse to shun every sinful pleasure
Since for me God's only Son suffered without measure.

BRISTOL HIGH WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT GAME

Fallsington Defeated By The One-Sided Score of 41 to 19

A STRONG DEFENSE

Bunnies Held Falls Scoreless
From the Field in First Half

TRENTON, Feb. 14—Bristol High won its fourth straight Lower Bucks County League game on the Parker School floor here last night, trouncing the Falls Township High School, 41-19. It was also the fourth consecutive win for Coach Stackhouse's boys.

A strong defense which held the Fallsington boys scoreless from the field the entire first half and enabled the Cardinals and Gray to amass a 21-4 lead accounted for the triumph. With Keyes and Embessi dropping in field goals in the first quarter, Bristol jumped into a 9-1 lead with DiNatale scoring the only Falls point on a foul.

"Mickey" Mandio scored a pair of field goals for Bristol in the second quarter and Lelinski and Collins came through with fielders while the only Fallsington points were fouts by Burton, White and DiNatale.

The Bristol sharpshooters continued their point-grabbing in the third quarter with "Toby" Oriola paying the way to increase the lead to 35-11. The final session was only a matter of coasting to victory.

Mandio, Keyes and Oriola were high for Bristol with Embessi, DiAngelo, and Collins doing fine work on the zone defense. DiNatale and Titus did the best work for the losing team.

Bristol's Jay fees continued their winning ways by also capturing their fourth straight league contest. Final score was: Bristol, 41; Fallsington, 19.

The proteges of Coach "Bill" Bartholomew shut out the Fallsington boys in the first quarter when they took a 7-0 lead. This was shaved to 9-5 at half-time and increased in the second half as the Fallsington team appeared to tire.

DeLise's four field goals and a foul made him high man for Bristol while Lynch and Johnson accounted for 11 of the losers' 13 tallies.

The same two teams will meet tomorrow night in Lower Bucks County League games on the high school floor.

Bristol Man To Serve Term in Jail

repaid, the court was informed by DiAngelo's attorney, J. Leslie Kilcayne, of Bristol. DiAngelo's father testified that he paid all the loss, amounting to $1248, which he raised himself to make up the money that was actually lost by his son after he had stolen it.

Chief of Police Linford Jones testified that DiAngelo was very drunk when he arrested him.

The court made it quite plain that the sentence in this case was very lenient, first because he pleaded guilty, and had a good reputation, and that he did have a medical discharge from the Army because of a nervous condition which necessitated regular medical treatments.

DiAngelo told the court that he had never been drunk in his life before this particular occasion. Among those who testified as to DiAngelo's reputation as to honesty were Mrs. Rose DiAngelo (no relation to the defendant), Walter E. McLaughlin and Charles LaPolla.

The defendant testified that he is employed by a Bristol aircraft factory, Fusco, from whom the money was stolen, cashes checks for the employees at a Bristol aircraft plant, which accounted for the large amount of money that he had at his home when DiAngelo stole it.

J. Wilmer Lundy, of Newtown, was yesterday appointed foreman of the Grand Jury for the current term.

80 RABBITS RELEASED

Annual Fishing Contest To Be Held Again This Year by Ass'n

Considerable progress in the efforts of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association to have Silver Lake and surrounding area declared a State Park was reported last evening when the association met for the February session in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

The committee in charge of the program announced that State Senator Howard I. James had thrown his full support towards achievement of the project and that he promised to do all in his power to see the lake made into a State Park site.

Although inclement weather held the attendance down, 43 members were on hand when Chairman Frank B. Murphy called the meeting to order. In the course of the evening's business, 21 new members were admitted to membership.

William Ritter, reporting for the game committee, said that a total of 80 rabbits have been released since the first of the year by the association on open hunting territory. He stated that several dozen more rabbits will be liberated within the next few weeks. This represents the heaviest stocking of cottontails in this area in many years.

Fish Committee Chairman Ollie Hobbs said the annual fishing contest, conducted by the association for its members, will again be held this year, with the same rules and prizes as last year. One new addition, however, was made—a prize for the largest salt water fish caught by a member will receive a five-dollar prize. This is the first time that a salt water fish division has ever been included in the contest.

Announcement was made that the current membership for 1945 is nearing the 200 mark. Better than 400 is expected before the year is out.

CRADLE for ships is a cradle for history. Naval and merchant fleet power is born in our shipyards.

Our fleets keep the war away from our shores. Ships carry our men... supplies... and fight to the enemy. Ships link the production of the home front with the battlefronts. Ships win our victories at sea. They make possible our victories on land.

27,000 people—employees and management working together in the free American way—at SUN SHIP ON THE DELAWARE IN CHESTER—are making history. The T-2 and Cimarron-type all-welded tankers built by SUN SHIP form the "floating pipeline fleet"—the ships that supply petroleum products—power all our Armed Forces on land... sea... and air.

SUN SHIP perfected the all-welded method of building deep-sea ships—the method that was adopted by all ship builders. Welding saves time... saves cargo space... adds speed and strength to ships. Welding made it possible for America to build ships at such a rate that in three years we reached first place in fighting and cargo vessels... now have the greatest sea power in the history of the world.

This sea power is doing much to win the war—will be vital to maintain the peace. The work SUN SHIP employees are doing is cause for civic and national pride. SUN SHIP has twenty-eight ways in its yards. In every way—in every cradle—history as well as ships is being born.
